"Der Landsknect" is the most difficult of all the selections to be rendered at Milwaukee, and only the best of the singing societice which take part in the fest are designated to sing in the chorus of this composition. The Colonel and the D. ctor continued to speak rather sharply, and each intimated that estain things were false. The sedate Doard was appalled but finally recovered sufficiently to stop the racket by recommitting the report.

A Talk With the Boss of the Natural Gas

Ve noticed the ditchers on the gas line in the corner of, Main and S xteenth streets, working in water over their shoe tope, and were surprised that they were apparently fatterling and happy dur-ing this rough exposure. The head mana-ger, who happened near, was asked how his men stood the work so well? He said, "he had been connected with trench and ditching work for thirly years and always had more or less sickness, among his near ditching work for thirty years and always had more or less sickness among his men who had such work to perform, but judge our surprise when he told us, not a man had,—since he came to Wheeling—even complained of heavlache. Our incredible expression amused the burly bass when he, with a mischievious wink and jerk of his head, as much as to say, follow me, led us behind one of the mammoth Union District Telephone poles, that stood at the edge of the pavement. Here he stopped, edge of the payement. Here he stopped, and, placing his unshaven face nearly in contact with our own fair brow, glanced hurridly up and down the street. Satisfied we were without an audience he, in a stage whisper, said: "The reason my men are gotting fat instead of going to their graves is, I make every mother son of them drink three cups of ohio valley rio coffee three times a day. Go thou and do likewise, and you can trach to?." We made wise, and you can trench too." We made a break for the nearest grocery store and invested.

Alliance ised the scood of the foreign and wedneady afternoon, and yesterlay afternoon was drilling inning. The game stood 3 to 3 until the sixth inning, when Alliance made another run. In the seventh inning our boys again tied the game, and both clubs were then held down to goose eggs until the fourteenth inning, when Bills got his base on balls, second on Welch's out, stole third, Hels struck out and Bills soored on a hit by Bostwick. Both clubs played strong fielding games.

Colonel W. E. Reppert, of Columbus, the enterprising Division Passenger Agent of the Baltimers & Ohlo Road, has perfected a splendid arrangement for the benefit of the Germania and Monnerchor Singing Societies and their friends who are going to the Milwaukee Sengoriest next week.
